F. D. SAMPSON, JUDGE 34th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

JUDGE F. D. SAMPSON FOR RE-ELECTION

Announcement has Been Expected. He is the Only Entry in the Race and Will Have no Opposition

In the proper column of this issue will be found the official announcement of Hon. F. D. Sampson for Circuit Judge of the Thirty-fourth Judicial District, composed of the Counties of Knox, Whitley and McCreary. This has been anticipated for some time, and at a Mass Meeting of the citizens of this County held recently at the Court House in Barbourville, he was unanimously endorsed and resolutions were adopted, asking him to declare himself a candidate for re-election. To the people of this District his announcement will be gratifying.

The demand for determined, capable and impartial Judiciary is nation wide, and in Judge Sampson this is fulfilled. The past record of Judge Sampson as Circuit Judge details a story of achievement and recites a record of things done. He has the best record of any Circuit Judge in Kentucky, for the trial and disposition of cases. His record will prove that he has tried twice as many cases as any other Circuit Judge in the State. He stands for the enforcement of the law, preservation of peace and good order, clean elections, the riddance of whiskey and "bootleggers", and a square deal for every man.

DEATHS.

COYT

On Sunday evening May 23 1915, at six o'clock, the death Angel called for one of our oldest and best citizens, in the person of Dr. C. S. Coyt, he has suffered for many months, not being able to do much work or to be out on the streets.

Dr. Coyt, came to Barbourville in the year 1880, and practiced the profession of dentistry until his health became so bad that he had to give it up; he was born in Portage County Ohio, November the 4th 1839, being 75 years old at the time of his death. He was a member of the Christian church, having united with that church in the State of his Nativity. Dr. Coyt realizing that death was near, made all preparations for his funeral Thursday before his death on Sunday, and left the testimony that he was ready for the journey across the Jordan into the promised land.

He leaves a wife, one son and one daughter, and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

BURCH

On Wednesday morning May 26 about 8 o'clock, the death angel visited the home of Rev. W. H. Burch and called him to his final reward. Mr. Burch was one of our oldest citizens and for many years was a Minister of the gospel of the Baptist church.

He was also an old Union soldier. Mr. Burch has been a resident of this city for several years.

The remains were taken to his old home place on Brush Creek for burial.

Mr. Burch leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss, but according to his profession, their loss is his eternal gain.

Costellow Drug Co. have made arrangements to dispose of all old hot water bottles and Fountain Syringes no matter in what condition, and will allow you 50c for your old one as part payment for a new one.

Odd Bits of News

Philadelphia, Pa.—Old Dr. Stork is doing his best to maintain his average at the home of Michael Kline. Five years ago he left at the Kline home a tiny girl that weighed but 1 1/2 pounds at birth. Last week the Klines became the proud parents of another child, this time a boy weighing 23 pounds. Both children are thriving and the Klines can now boast the smallest and the fattest baby in a great state.

Pottstown, Pa.—Irvin Hillebeitel has filed a claim of $400 against the estate of the late Mary E. Fritz for services in nursing her during her last illness. Inasmuch as Irvin was engaged to Mrs. Fritz the executors of her estate refuse to pay on the ground that his services were contributed as a labor of love.

Washington, D. C.—W. J. Bryd-an is against voting on prohibition in 1916, and "predicts that neither the Republican nor Democratic parties will put a prohibition plank in their platforms, although he wants it to be known as a dry party. He believes that the other issues will out-rival prohibition at that election. Personally he would like that plank inserted, but does not believe that it is possible to do so.

"THE RIGHT MAN" WRITES A LETTER

Says His, Not Parker's, Election is Certain

Corbin, Ky., May 20, 1915. To the Voters of Whitley and Knox:

My attention has been called to the headline in the Advocate which appeared last week, which reads, "Parker's Re-election Certain". Now, what prompted Mr. Parker to say that his re-election is certain, no one knows, and he gives no reason other than he made a speech at Williamsburg on Monday, the first day of Court. Mr. Parker says that "W. F. Parker, W. C. Black and others" addressed the voters etc., placing his name first, and failing entirely to recognize Mr. Dyehe, Mr. Bays, and a score of candidates for Circuit Court Clerk, who made their announcements on that day, including myself, who made the second address or rather an announcement following Mr. Bays. I was followed by Mr. Parker. We had each of us five minutes time and any reader can readily imagine the "Address" Mr. Parker made in that five minutes.

I wish to say that I was there all day with two of the best helpers obtainable, and I found encouragement beyond my expectation. I not only found men for me, but enthusiastic, and are working from thence to the election. I must say that I was myself surprised at the most favorable expressions I received there that day.

Mr. Parker came to Corbin and I suppose that he is yet trying to electioneer, for the day after he was here seven different men came to me and said they had seen my friend Parker, but that they, each of them, did not hesitate to tell him that they must be for the "Right Man", the Home Man, Mr. Price.

Yes, Mr. Parker's election is certain,—just as certain as the sun shines (of a night). I feel that four to one will be under what I will poll over my opponent in August.

I again thank the people for the loyal support that I am assured you are going to give me, and beg to remain your friend,
Jas. J. Price

Blundering Democrats

Washington, D. C., May 27. A typical example of inexcusable blundering by Congress in the enactment of a statute has been argued recently before the Court of Customs Appeals. The court is asked to interpret the meaning of paragraph 408 of the Underwood tariff act, the first important law of the present administration.

The paragraph provides free entry for "waste" of any of the articles therein described "Suitable" for the manufacture of paper. Careless use of the word "suitable" in drafting the law plunged it into uncertainty, for it admits a wide latitude of construction. Will free entry be given to anything that MIGHT be used in paper making; or must waste be used ONLY in paper making in order to enter free of duty? Already two opposing constructions have been placed upon the statute, one by customs officials who imposed a tax, another by the Board of U. S. General Appraisers who allowed free entry. Now the higher court is appealed to for a third opinion as to intent of the law makers.

The blunder is more notable because the language of former tariff acts was an ample guide, clearly emphasizing the need for unequivocal diction. The act of 1897 provided free entry for waste "FIT ONLY" to be converted into paper.

The corresponding paragraph in the 1909 act extended free entry to waste "USED CHIEFLY for paper making.

With these provisions in the old law, it seems as though intelligent revision would have been simplicity itself. But with their fatal gift of blundering the Democrats seized upon and inserted "SUITABLE" in the law, the one word that either customs officials, lawyers or business men affected could understand, and which rendered imperative the litigation now in the courts before the statute can be fully enforced.

MEASURES LIGHT BY NEW SYSTEM

Photographer Advances Scheme Now Discussed by Teachers of Physics Throughout U. S.

"ACTINO" IS MADE THE UNIT

Valuable in Photography for Determining Actinuity Under Certain Conditions.

New York.—A system to simplify the measuring of light and to establish a unit of measurement has been devised by F. M. Steadman, a photographer, which has attracted the attention of teachers of physics throughout the country. Although the system was devised by Mr. Steadman for use in the photography and is not as yet well known, those who have heard it discussed and explained believe in its merits.

At a recent lecture before the Camera Club, Mr. Steadman told of the uses to which the theory could be put and showed the value of measuring light in taking photographs where much attention is devoted to light and shadow effects. Briefly, the theory of Mr. Steadman is that since all light has an effect in causing a change on chemically sensitized paper, light could be measured by the number of seconds it takes to cause such a change.

It was said by Mr. Steadman in explaining the measuring of light that the present system of using the candle light as a unit is unsatisfactory, as it necessitates a certain amount of guess work. If a standard sensitized paper could be used and the faintest change which the eye could detect in making the change could be used as the unit for measuring the strength of the light. The name "actino" has already been used for the property which any object has to cause a chemical change on a sensitized medium, and Mr. Steadman suggests that the unit of measurement be called an "actino."

The purpose of Mr. Steadman in giving his theory to the advancement of the theory, is explained by him in his book, "Unit Photography," where he says, "As every object about us, even one so indefinite as the sky, emits light capable of effecting this chemical change to some degree, this property is evidently a quantitative one, and, as will be shown, can be measured in simple units. This property has already been termed actinuity."

MODERN LUMBER JACK A REAL ARISTOCRAT

Hotel on Wheels Has Parlor and Kitchen Cars with Brilliant Lights, Spring Beds and Soft Mattresses.

Mellen, Wis.—Should an old time lumberjack wander into this neck of the woods searching for old, familiar haunts, and with the possible desire to once again for a brief time enter into the old calling for pastime or physical improvement, he would be met to make a hasty survey of present conditions and with a voice softened by disappointment declare, "No, this is not the same—not at all the same. This may be all right for a minister's son, but not for me—not for me. Too much like Chicago."

Last winter residents of Mellen had an opportunity to watch a train of new lumbering cars switched out into the woods over the logging railroad of the Foster-Lintner Lumber Company. The cars were built in the local car shops of that concern and are the last word in quarters for woodsmen.

The outfit comprises a "kitchen car" equipped with the most modern kitchen appliances, such as can only be found in the culinary departments of houses of large cities; two "sleeping cars" equipped with steel double deck beds, springs and mattresses, there being no bunk beds, but regular upper and lower bunks, each for two persons and provided with individual ventilating windows; in the roof are also eight portable ventilator stacks. The two cars are provided with individual toilets for seating four persons each. The entire train is comfortably heated by steam heat. The cars are provided with hardwood floors, neatly painted inside and out, well lighted, and provided with the latest model gasoline lighting system.

MAN SEES FIRST TRAIN AND STARTS TO "FIGHT" IT

Kentuckian Hurts Rock at "Huge Varmin" and Gashed Head of Passenger.

Danville, Ky.—Frightened at the sight of the first train he had ever seen, George Mason, who lives in the cliffs north of High Bridge, threw a rock at the Royal Palm on the Queen & Crescent Route.

Mason declares that he had never before seen a train and that he thought the thing was some sort of "huge varmin."

It isn't every man who can crack a joke and extract the kernel without damaging it.

DOG MAIL CARRIER'S DEATH CALLED

They Were Never Labeled as Dogs, But They Were Treated as Such.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The dog mail has been carried by the wood railroad since the borough post office was built, three miles from the town. The dog mail carrier, Yeadon, never complained of the service, but the complaint of the service was made by the sheep dogs of the wood railroad.

Now one of the dog mail carriers, his "pal" refused to be found in the dog mail Evans' property. The residents of the dog mail will have to be found in the dog mail Evans' property.

It is Collier who naturally passed on the dog mail Evans' property. The dog mail Evans' property is a dog mail Evans' property.

CH. STRIKE WAKES FOUR PEDDLER RICH

Who Formerly Sold Wares in City Store Now Clears $850 per Day on Oklahoma Farm

Lawrence, Okla.—How M. S. Musgrave rose in a single year from the peddling of a Syrian peddler to a position of wealth and power in the oil industry was brought home to citizens here through a visit in the city of a man to clear title to valuable oil land near Dayton.

A few years ago Musgrave was known as a peddler and he peddled his wares. He could talk English only a little. A real estate man persuaded him to buy some "farm property" on a half of the Cimarron River, near Dayton, at a Government land sale.

It was about a year later someone opened a store at Dayton adjoining Musgrave's store. The Syrian was quick to see the possibilities and by morning he had moved into a contract excluding the Syrian and entitling him to a share of the oil land.

A rich strike was made. The daily production now is 100 barrels, and even at the present price of oil Musgrave's bank account is growing at the rate of $850 a day. A rich strike was made.

The present suit involves the Toby oil tract, one of the most valuable oil tracts of that section. The Toby tract was sold to M. S. Musgrave, A. A. and A. D. Cameron.

They also hold a valid lease on the property. Franklin alleges the Toby tract is invalid through a violation of its terms.

MILLIONS SPENT ON COPPER MOUNT

Guggenheims Find Deposits in Chili "Richer Than Gold Mines of Incas."

ARE PREPARING TO MARKET ORE

Ships and Privileges Are Built by Them in Scheme of Development of Mine.

New York.—Richer by far than the sources from which the Incas and Aztecs drew their supply of gold is the way an American mining engineer who recently returned from South America described the copper deposits which have been opened up at Chuquibambilla, Chili, by the Chili Exploration Company, an American corporation controlled by the Guggenheims interests.

The description given by the engineer of the mountain of almost pure copper to market which the Guggenheims are spending millions of dollars in steamships, mining equipment, railroads and port equipment, reads like a tale from the Arabian Nights. The operations entailed the overcoming of what looked to be practically insurmountable obstacles.

Back of the story of the Guggenheims' achievements in opening up the Chuquibambilla mine lies the yet stronger tale of how the presence of the rich copper deposits had been known for 50 years before the news reached the Guggenheims. That a mountain composed wholly of copper ore which could be scooped up by steam shovels, the ore assaying a high percentage of copper than the ore of any mine in the United States, really existed was scoffed at. The Guggenheims took it seriously, sent men to investigate the matter and on the receipt of their reports immediately made arrangements to secretly obtain possession of the concession.

One hundred million tons is the estimate given of the amount of copper which the mountain contains. It is situated about 200 kilometers inland from the port of Antofagasta. The country is extremely mountainous and the copper mountain itself is at an elevation of 9,500 feet above the sea level.

The actual work on the preparations for getting the ore to market began two years ago. First of all it was necessary to build a railroad from Antofagasta to the mine. The railroad was the most difficult of all the problems which faced the engineers. The road soon became an accomplished fact, however, and it is now in operation.

Long before the railroad was completed contracts were let in Germany for the machinery which is to extract the copper from the ore. An entirely new process never before used in the crushing of copper ore will be introduced at Chuquibambilla. It is known as the "leaching" process, by which the copper is extracted by means of electricity.

Although the war held up the delivery of much of the mining machinery, necessitating the purchase of some of the equipment in this country, the mine will be in full operation soon. After the copper has been extracted it will be cast into ingots, transported on the private railroad to Antofagasta, where it will be put on board steamships for the markets of the world.

It is estimated that more than $100,000,000 has already been spent in equipment for getting the copper to the coast. The outlay is still incomplete, however, as Antofagasta is to be abandoned as a port by the Guggenheims in favor of Megillones, located a short distance to the north of Antofagasta.

British and German interests are competing strongly with Americans in their efforts to obtain the most desirable concessions, but the Americans have taken the lead in developing such concessions as have been given out by the Government.

It is the man behind the machine that really counts after all," says this mechanical chemist. "All these mechanical speeding up processes are of little value unless the human factor is right."

The right man on the right job under the right supervision and you don't need any efficiency or standardization system for the machines.

The first requisite in the establishing of efficient employment methods is to begin in the factory. Find out the sort of person your job requires. That is why I invented this machine. I want to use it as an aid to my general observations.

Hiring and firing is an expensive element. Men carefully trained by a company might be admirably adapted to another phase of work in the same institution should not be thrown out. Any employee working for an institution, even for a short period, is an asset. It is a commercial crime to discard any piece of machinery and, most of all, human talent, simply because some individual in authority may take a dislike to a peculiarity of an employee.

In order to stop this great economic waste of human effort the individual should be fitted with a job which will suit his temperament.

Mr. Johnson trained three woodchucks to dig fence post holes of size and depth at his will.

The Linen of Ireland.
In 1688, the year of the accession of William III, the export of linen from Ireland barely reached $30,000 worth; in 1741 it reached $700,000; in 1779, $7,500,000, and in 1823 the declared value was $11,435,000.

When a man's wife also talks in her tongue—well, that's the limit.

Hazel went downtown alone and did not come back. Investigation revealed her at the home of Mrs. Green, who met her at the store and told her the story of her parentage. Mrs. Green is the wife of a railroad engineer. Hazel's father is dead.

I am offering my farm of 50 acres for sale, twelve acres of bottom land, a six room house, two good wells, a good orchard of two hundred trees, also a good barn. Would exchange for house and lot. This farm lies on the head of Fighting Creek. For information call on Dora Hawn

MANY BARBOURVILLE PEOPLE FAIL TO REALIZE THE SERIOUSNESS.

Backache is so deceptive.
It comes and goes—keeps you guessing.
Learn the cause—then cure it.
Possibly it's weak kidney.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

We present the following case
as proof:

S. F. Broughton, Beaver St.
Joliet, Tenn., says: "For over three years I suffered from sharp pains through my back, so severe at times as to prevent me
from straightening after stooping. The attack becomes more frequent and painful as time went on and I soon came to the conclusion that my kidneys were disordered. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills there has been a marked improvement and I believe I will be entirely cured."

TAING TANLAC

Judges, Mayors and Prominent Business Men Try
Premier Preparation

Lexington Ky., May 27—"I have sold Tanlac since the beginning of its introduction in Lexington, to the Mayors of a number of cities, County Judges, Circuit Judges, and to many of the most prominent business men and professional men in Kentucky," said
Wm. E. Stagg, the Lexington druggist.

"The demand for the preparation has been phenomenal. In all of my twenty years' experience in the drug business I have never seen anything to equal it.

"In addition to the Lexington demand, Tanlac has been shipped from my store to Kansas City, Mo.; Colorado Springs, Colo.;
Memphis, Tenn.; Meridian, Miss.;
Bonnilla, Fla.; Louisville, Ky.;
Tiffin, Ohio; Cincinnati, Ohio;
Columbia, Tenn.; Palm Beach,
Fla.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Los Angeles,
Cal., and many other points too numerous to mention. You may rest assured that every city in Kentucky also has heard of Tanlac. "I can only account for the great demand for this preparation by the fact that it is a good medicine. That is proved by the numerous statements from those who have tested the medicine and are now convinced of its excellent merits. The public has evidently not been slow to appreciate the Tanlac merit.

"Practically $20,000.00 worth of Tanlac has been sold and distributed through my store within the past few weeks. Such a demand is most certainly, unprecedented.

"My associations with Mr.
Cooper and the agency for Tanlac has been very pleasant. I therefore take pleasure in commending Mr. Cooper and his very excellent preparation."

BABY MUST SEE FOR
THE WHOLE FAMILY

Father, Mother and Two Other Children Vis Blind.—Mother's Prayer
Answered at Birth of Last Child.

Colorado Springs, Cal. In a little home at Lake George, 25 miles from here, there is a baby boy who, when he grows up, will be able to tell his father his mother and a brother and sister of the beauties of the mountain region in which they live, but which never been shut out to them throughout
their lives.

The baby, the pride and wonder of the entire district, possesses the blessing of sight, denied other members of the family. The baby's father is Benjamin Richards. He is blind. The little mother, now the happiest woman in all Colorado, was Mrs. Myrtle Rigby.
She was born blind. She was a student in state school for the blind and while there lost her sight. His sight had been shut out to them throughout
their lives.

Heaven together by their affliction,
which sent them through the world in darkness, Richard and the little blind girl were married. Five years ago a baby girl was born. Anxiously they waited for the word that would tell them whether the innocent newcomer
had also entered the world in darkness.
Their hearts were torn when they were told the baby girl would never see.
Three years later a baby boy arrived
and he, too, had been denied the gift of sight.

Two years passed. A little girl, now 5 years old, played in a world of darkness about her mother, who had also never seen the light of day. A little boy groined about the floor. It was a home of darkness. Neighbors told the mother that her little ones were pretty children, and she smiled and cooed the little hands and faces she could not see.

Time went on. The mother knew that the stark would soon hover over the home again. She knew that he was about to bring another baby soul
into the world and the mother prayed that this innocent might be spared the blight of eternal darkness. The mother was cheerful and hopeful, but when the time came for the father to summon the village doctor his heart fairly stood still. The doctor could only tell them that he hoped, but there was prejudicial influence to be overcome.

Waiting with the mountain friends
was the sightless father and the child deaf of night. The doctor came from the room. His face was wreathed in smiles. He grasped father Richards by the hand.

"A boy; seven and one-half pounds—and perfect eyes. He sees," the big man told the father even as he himself was almost overcome with emotion.

There were tears of joy in the Richards home that day. Though they did not know just why, the childish laugh of the little ones of darkness carried a new note of cheer and hope.

FARMER ATTACKED BY BIG COW-EATING BEAR

Bear Is Getting Away With a Calf
When Discovered—Chases Two Into Trees.

Newark, N. J.—According to information brought by courier from Montague an outpost in the wilds of Sussex County, New Jersey, that section is being ravaged by hungry cow-eating black bears, who are not above taking a chance on a well fed farmer. Yesterday, so it is said, a big and unusually wooly bear chased "Bill" Cummings, a well known settler, up a tree, after he got tired of having "Bill" chase him.
An armed force of neighbors chased the bear away and helped "Bill" out of the tree, where he told of a wild chase through the underbrush. The bear in question, probably the most happiest and daring ever seen about Montague, is reported to have waded into the corral of Charles Jennings,
where it fastened its teeth in a calf.
Mr. Cummings on his way to Jennings' home saw the theft and yelled "Shoo
there, boss," with little or no effect.

Enraged at this he gave chase to the bear, which fled still clinging to the calf. After a wild chase through the dense forests which litter Sussex County, particularly the curb lines, the bear lost his temper and the calf at the same time and turned furiously toward his pursuer. Mr. Cummings noting the angry expression in the bear's eye hurried to the nearest point of the forest
and crawled to the highest branch,
while the bear escaped.

GIRLS SEEK HUSBANDS
IN DEATH VALLEY

"Adamless Eves" Flood Mining Camps
With Love Letters to Bachelors.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Death Valley, recently placed on the social map by a dance to which girls from hundreds of miles distant were invited and provided with transportation by the bachelor bids of the mining camps, is about to be transformed from an Eveless Eden into an Eden densely populated with femininity.

Following Death Valley's great ball,
the long trips of the girls to attend,
and the importation of music from Los Angeles, a deluge of letters from Adam-less Eves has descended on the mining camps.

Robert M. Pease, who arranged the ball, is being swamped with letters from women who want to move to Death Valley. Pease writes:

"Behold, I am being deluged with a hopeless mass of communications from all 'Adamless Eves' in Christendom.
I am receiving pounds of pressed roses and violets; I am receiving offers to mend my socks, to sew my buttons and to cook for me. Requests for programs and requests for photographs,
and, yes, even requests for transportation."

WARREN VS ARTEMUS

Last Saturday the Warren Baseball team accompanied by a big crowd of rooters went to Artemus and played the Artemus aggregation, the first whack Warren has had at them this season and at the close of the session the score was 16 to 1 in favor of Warren. Artemus never had a chance from the start and they were lucky to get one score which came in the ninth on two clean hits, a three batter by McDonald and Cox's single. Dixon was on the mound for Warren and had everything. Warren started scoring in the first inning and before the smoke flew over they had crossed the home plate eight times which was enough to kill the hope of the loyal Artemus fans.

Artemus has a lovely looking bunch of players and they should be entered in some beauty contest, but somebody fabricated when they said they could play ball. The home run of big Bill Dixon was a feature and the all around batting of the entire Warren team took the crowd off their feet. Artemus and Warren will play again on the Warren diamond Saturday afternoon and no doubt a large crowd from Artemus will see the game.
